Following her attendance at our production of South Pacific, the High Sheriff of Dyfed Mrs Claire Mansel Lewis presented the Youth Opera with an award at the recent High Sheriff's Award Ceremony, Llandovery College. Her words, "We were truly thrilled to have been able to attend, and would like to congratulate you all on the very high standard of the production. I can only guess the amount of work that is involved in something like this; not only was the acting and singing of a very high standard, but the set and costumes were amazingly good. We were also struck by the age range of the young people involved and can see that this is a valuable resource for those who want to make musical theatre their career, but it also gives young people a focus and the opportunity to learn new disciplines and social skills";
